

New Module News

A new module has been developed specifically for our Navy clients and is now available on your training site:

Essential Fish Habitat Policy Revision and Application - This module provides an overview of fish habitat policies put in place to help identify, rebuild, and protect exploited fish habitats. Specifically, this module covers applicable acts, policies, mandates and how they apply to the Navy, acronyms, definitions, types of habitats, levels of impact, EFH (Essential Fish Habitat) assessment, action effects, options for EFH consultations, and federal agency response.

version: Navy, time: 40 minutes

Updates & Enhancements

A new feature has recently been added to some EMS modules at select installations. “Knowledge Checks,” or mid-module check points, have been added to test your ability to retain the information presented to you, providing a better overall training experience.

These new Knowledge Checks can now be found on the sites for Kitsap, NAS Whidbey Island, Naval Magazine Indian Island and NS Everett in the EMS modules. We are currently in the process of adding these new Knowledge Checks to all other EMS modules, as well as the Environmental Compliance and Enforcement module and the General Environmental Compliance Information module for all other Navy bases. Even better, we are now incorporating these new Knowledge Checks to all new modules developed. More to come!

Client Site Visit

Jerry Arcaro, Senior VP of ICLD (parent company that powers ECATTS), recently made a site visit to Norfolk, VA, to meet with our Mid-Atlantic Navy clients. The purpose was to meet and discuss feedback, new requests, and encourage more overall utilization of the system.

This meeting served to be both positive and beneficial. New action items to enhance the site’s search navigation, allowing users to search by module and individual within the Region’s bases, and the ability to transfer records with the TWMS system, were tasked to our ECATTS team. Both of these enhancements have already begun development and are currently in the works!

Summer Support Tip

Share your accomplishments! Don’t forget, once you have completed your training, you can click “Print Certificate” to obtain a copy of your training completion.

Or, if you prefer, you can even send a copy of it by email to your supervisor. Simply select “Print PDF” at the bottom of the page, and a PDF copy of your certificate will open. Save it to your computer and attach it to your email. If you are having trouble opening a PDF of your certificate, be sure to turn off your pop-up blocker temporarily.

Always feel free to contact us at support@ecatts.com if you need additional assistance. We are happy to help!
