

Naval Site Visits

Early in May, our Senior VP of ICLD traveled to visit with the Navy Region Northwest. There, he met with numerous Naval personnel from nine different installations providing training sessions on the ECATTS system. A review of system functionality was presented, including how the registration process has been updated to include Unit Identification Codes (UICs) and how training plan development may be customized for each command.

He will continue his visits to various bases. If you would like yours to be one of them, you can contact us at sales@ecatts.com for more information.

More Modules Still To Come!

The ECATTS team has been hard at work with the continual development of state-specific Underground Storage Tank Operator A/B Certification Trainings. As a reminder, this course will consist of 17 modules with information based on the requirements established by the EPA and state regulatory agencies for UST Operators A/B. To facilitate your learning experience, each course is being developed with state-specific information and state regulations integrated into each module.

Topics covered include operator overview, tanks and piping, ancillary equipment, spill and overflow prevention, tank gauging, release detection, statistical inventory reconciliation, secondary containment and interstitial monitoring, groundwater and vapor monitoring, corrosion protection, emergency response, product compatibility, notification and registration requirements, release reporting, closure requirements, and financial responsibility.

It is extremely important that we have the most current contact information to update your site accordingly. POCs are provided special access and system administration privileges, but without your contact information, they cannot be granted!
