

Important Regulatory Notice for States

Contractors, have you checked with your state and local agencies before starting your construction project? States may have different requirements than that of federal agencies. And sometimes, even more stringent. The US EPA delegates authority to the States who meet the qualifications. Delegation usually includes permitting, inspections, monitoring and enforcement, and often includes standards setting.

Did you know that ECATTS (ESOHTN) offers Construction Contractor training specific to each state? Make sure you stay up to date on all of your training, especially in your work state.

Visit ecatts.com to see all available training, and keep yourself and your company in compliance.

ESOHTN is coming to ANG (and may be available already!)

AF CE transformation, including the centralization of environmental management at the AF Civil Engineering Center (AFCEC), has allowed ANG to leverage the use of ESOHTN at existing active duty and reserve bases to their advantage.

If you are an ANG installation with an ADAF or AFRC base in your state, you may already have access to ESOHTN and be able to take advantage of the training that is available. More ANG bases are being added in April with all ANG installations slated to have access by the end of the year. Check to see if your installation is ready and if you can begin using the ESOHTN training. ANG installations without an associated ADAF or AFRC installation in their state will be implemented later in the year.

Feel free to reach out to your ADAF/AFRC counterparts and learn how they are using ESOHTN, as well as the ESOHTN support. Your ANG POCs are Mr. Kevin Shupe (DSN 612-8052) and Mr. Robert Subasavage (DSN 612-8265) if you have any questions on the use of ESOHTN within ANG.

Spring Support Tip

Has your email address changed recently?

Be sure to log into your ESOHTN account and update your email address using the “My Profile” link at the top of the page. Keeping your profile current will help enable you to automatically retrieve your login information in the event that it is ever lost.

And remember, if you have any questions just contact us at support@esohtn.com.

New ESOHTN Sites

Keep a look out for new ESOHTN sites to “spring” up soon!

The ESOHTN team has been hard at work to bring up more sites until the system is Air Force wide.

Will yours be next?
