

New Courses Now Available

New courses are always in the works for your training benefit. Here are some of the most recently completed modules now available (and becoming available) to you:

Air Force Environmental Awareness - This module is an overview of how everyday work decisions impact the environment and overall quality of life. This module reviews and explains the importance of being in environmental compliance at your work site. Further, it covers the importance of ESOHTN training, the key environmental legislation that governs work activities, common compliance violations, the inspection process, violation enforcement actions, and ECAMP.

version: Air Force, time: 20 minutes

Lead-Based Paint - This is a comprehensive overview of Lead and Lead-Based Paint. This module reviews the uses of lead, what it is and why it is found in paint, laws and Executive Orders, problems with lead-based paint, health effects in children and adults, ways to reduce potential health effects from lead, Air Force LBP policy, Air Force Functional Area responsibilities, USAF Base LBP Program, LBP Testing, abatement and cleanup, certifications to conduct work with LBP, Toxic Substances Control Act, Resource Conservation and Recovery Act, and lead-based paint and OSHA.

version: Air Force, time: 60 minutes

More courses are still in development with a targeted completion date in Q3. We will share more module details as soon as they are available.

Spring Support Tip

Have you done your Spring cleaning? Spring is a great time to clean up your ESOHTN account information. Simply log into your account, go to “My Profile” and check to make sure the organizational structure listed there is correct. If it is not, make the appropriate changes and click SAVE CHANGES.

Your completion information will not show up on the appropriate Administrator and Training Manager reports if the information listed in your profile is not complete. Avoid future headaches by taking a moment to see if it is correct!

And as always, do not hesitate to contact us directly at support@esohtn.com if you have any questions.

ESOHTN Now on YouTube

Have you checked out the new ESOHTN YouTube Channel?

You can view it now at <https://www.youtube.com/channel/UC-WyuLqmtAP-G3xItqBn7HSQ>. Here, you can find our latest Admin Tutorials on Editing Base Contacts, Locating and Updating User Account Information, and Editing and Adding a Contractor.

We will continue to post helpful videos, system tips and other tutorials to assist with your site training. Keep an eye out for more to come!

Celebrate Earth Day

Earth Day is April 22. How will you celebrate? Plant a tree? Organize a clean up? Educate yourself on recycling and conservation? Make the switch to energy-efficient electronics in your home? However you choose to recognize and help on this day, your Earth will thank you.

And remember, spend the day outside and enjoy your environment!
